

Global citizenship and residency seminar to be held in NYC next week

Residency specialists Henley & Partners will host its Global Citizenship Seminar at the Four Seasons Hotel, New York on 10 September 2014. The event will focus on developments in the area of residence and citizenship planning and the growing international trend of increasing mobility and acceptance of multiple citizenship.

Speakers at the event will include the Prime Minister of Malta, who will present an overview of the recently introduced Malta Individual Investor Program, as well as the Premier of Nevis, who will introduce the citizenship-by-investment options in Nevis.

Henley & Partners said the seminar will give attendees (with pace is limited to 100 spaces) the opportunity to meet with industry professionals, advisors, leading experts and government representatives.
